Professional or Amateur.... Need Help Choosing Your Division?

The International Powerlifting Association (IPA) is an organization established as a “Lifters for Lifters” organization with two divisions. Professional (Pro) and Amateur (AM). The definitions for qualifications for these two divisions are as follows:

Pro Division: Anyone who totals Professional (Pro) is entered into this division. Standard lifting rules apply, and the division is open to anyone who wants to enter as a Pro, no matter what he or she totals. There is no drug testing in this division. The Pro Division has its own world records. Records will be kept in the Men, Women, Junior, Open, Submaster, and Master Divisions only. There is no teenage or a Special Olympian Division in the Pro Division.

Amateur (AM) Division: This division is a very strict drug-free division. Any lifter under suspicion of drug use will be required to undergo a urinalysis test (same standards as the U.S. Olympic Committee). If the test results are negative, the meet director will absorb the cost of the drug test. If the test results are positive, the lifter will be responsible for all expenses associated with the drug test, and all of the lifter’s records and accomplishments to date will be disqualified. A lifter testing positive will be permanently banned from lifting in the AM Division. . If the lifter enters the Am Division and totals Pro, the lifter will automatically be transferred to the Pro Division in the same meet (same weight class and sub-division). The Amateur Division has its own elite and worlds records. Amateur records will be kept in the Men, Women, Teen (14-15, 16-17, 218-19), , Junior (20-23), Open, Submaster, Master, Police, and Special Olympian Divisions.
